MARCUS INSTITUTE FOR BRAIN HEALTH

The Marcus Institute for Brain Health is located on the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus. This is the former home of the Fitzsimons Army Medical Center, which occupied the property from 1914 until 1996. It is fitting that MIBH provides care to those who served our country in the tradition of Fitzsimons Army Medical Center.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

At MIBH, our complete focus is to help you get better. People struggling with mild to moderate TBIs (including concussion) see changes in emotions, physical functioning, and thinking. These symptoms impact how we see ourselves as well as relationships with family and friends. At MIBH, we believe in wellness for you, and we believe that with the right tools we can help you make this your reality.

WHY WE EXIST

For many years, people struggled alone with mild to moderate brain injuries. Concussions were “just a bump on the head.” Today we know differently. There are clear changes in functioning after brain injury and for many people there are long-term changes. Treatment for TBI and associated psychological health symptoms requires a sophisticated healthcare team. MIBH is that team to fill this critical need for comprehensive and customized care.

EVALUATION:

Your first day at MIBH, you begin by telling your story one time to your core care team. After an assessment, individualized for you, the team regroups. We create a cohesive and customized diagnostic and treatment plan just for you. The evaluation isn't the end; it's the beginning.

INTERVENTION:

We customize care to each patient's needs. At MIBH, we have two main models of therapy. For some, we recommend an intensive outpatient program, where for several weeks your job is to focus on healing. For others, a more traditional outpatient model fits best.

Either way, our philosophy is the same. We care for the body, mind, and spirit using an integrated team focused on you.

TRANSITIONAL CARE:

As a military Veteran or retired athlete, you know a lot about transition. At MIBH, we make sure that the progress you make with us continues into your daily life. Transitional care planning starts Day 1 of therapy, and our team will continue to work with you through the rest of your journey. When you head back home, you will have a new plan for continued care and access to resources.
